RAISEupTexas is a whole-school transformation model utilizing leadership development and support, a foundational instructional model and systems for supporting both students and teachers. We are leveraging the synergy of these efforts to make a difference in the lives of middle level students throughout Central Texas. This session will focus on the critical role of Instructional Coaching in this transformation. Serving as change agents for the students served by their campus, the work of an instructional coach requires a consistent balance of passion for student learning and outcomes, advocacy for best instructional practices and sensibilities as co-leaders of a learning community. Participants will hear from Project Managers and Instructional Coaches from Central Texas schools in the RAISEupTexas project.

Presenter: Teri Clement
Co-Presenters: Amy Havard and Zenovia DeCuir