

Angelique Nedved

Assistant Superintendent, Teaching & Learning | USD 497 | Lawrence, KS

As Director of School Quality at SchoolSmartKC (an education non-profit in Kansas City, MO), Angelique Nedved leads in-depth reviews of schools for investment support to ensure quality schooling for local youth. She also drives SchoolSmartKC's broader efforts to coordinate leadership, instruction and other supports needed for schools to thrive. Angelique brings comprehensive experience in school improvement and organizational change focused on the adoption of modern and engaging learning environments. Her recent work in Lawrence Public Schools has earned her national recognition as one of the country's Top 30 Technologists, Transformers and Trailblazers in 2016.

Prior to joining SchoolSmartKC, Angelique served in the public education sector teaching grades kindergarten through high school, including five years as a building principal. She joined district level administration in Lawrence as Director of Instruction and Curriculum before accepting the position of Assistant Superintendent of Teaching and Learning. Angelique earned her Doctorate in Educational Leadership and Policy Studies from the University of Kansas, and holds a Masters in Education Administration and a Bachelors in Secondary and Elementary Education from Fort Hays State University.