

Vicki Ricketts

Professional Developer | Striving Readers/Midwest CLC | Springfield, MO

Since 1975, Vicki has served children and adults in a variety of roles in both public and private education. Currently, she is working as a co-author with Ed Ellis developing standards-based text manuals and CDs using Differentiated Visual Tools in the content areas of Language Arts and Government. Vicki still enjoys serving as educational consultant, professional developer, and team member on school reform initiatives. Formerly, she held the position of Instructional Specialist for School Improvement with Springfield Public Schools in Missouri where she worked with elementary and secondary principals and teachers to create and support the implementation of effective school improvement plans. Vicki served as a classroom teacher for twenty-nine years in both Missouri and Texas, and she still considers the school environment mentally invigorating and fun.
